ONLINE NETWORKING & PERSONAL COACHING, IT DOESN'T GET ANY BETTER THAN THAT!

Incline Village, NV – May 1, 2008 – Corporate Visions Inc. announced today their expansion of Alumni Services to include an online networking group through LinkedIn.

What comes to mind when you hear “Professional Network,” “Online Community” and “20 Million Members?” That’s right, LinkedIn! Chances are, you already know many people who are on LinkedIn. But what you didn’t know is that Corporate Visions now has an alumni networking group accessible through LinkedIn for all graduates of Corporate Visions workshops and consulting engagements. “We are so excited to have an online group for our alumni. The sales and marketing professionals who attend our workshops are some of the best in the world and have incredible stories to tell. With the networking platform, they’ll be able to share their successes, best practices and business challenges with one another.” said Joe Terry, President of Corporate Visions.

Throughout the last eight years, Corporate Visions has been the only Sales Messaging and sales training company to offer exclusive one-on-one coaching to all Corporate Visions alumni. With the creation of the online networking group through LinkedIn, Corporate Visions alumni can connect with others to expand their network of like-minded professionals. They will also be able to share best practices, sales challenges, workshop experiences and much more at their own convenience and still have the luxury to call their personal Corporate Visions coach.
